

Organize your junk! Five tips to help you.

Contributed by Admin
Friday, 09 July 2010
Last Updated Monday, 19 July 2010

Spring cleaning has passed, now its summer. Maybe this is the perfect time of year for you to organize and finish clearing your junk out. Yes, maybe the desire is there but you just don't know where to start? Here are five tips to help you get organized!

- Planning- before starting your organization process, think about the amount of junk you are working with and what you want the end result to be. Do you need to get rid of your junk? Or just put it all in order? Be reasonable when planning, don't set a goal that is unreachable.

- Prepare- what does this mean? Preparing means getting organized in what you will need to complete this task. Something that can help you to get organized is buying storage bins, shelves, hooks, etc. If you need to purchase anything, make sure you do this in the preparation step of the process.

- De-Clutter- Its time to get started. Roll up your sleeves, and start moving everything out of the area you want to get rid of. You will need to get rid of any junk to really de-clutter and get organized.

- Install- Once you clear the area of junk, its time to put up those shelves or hooks you may have purchased. Anything you plan to use to help your organization you may move into the room.

- Remove- This is the most important step. Removing the junk really gets your area clear of clutter. Looking at all the junk you have to get rid of may get overwhelming. In this case, a professional and reliable junk removal service is ready to help! They will come and do all your heavy lifting and recycling.

When you have finished steps 1 through 4, most of your work is done. Let a junk removal service, like Junk Boys, help you clear out the junk. You can call, or email us, and we'll work with you to finish your project. We're easy to work with and leave you satisfied and organized!